COLMAN & COMPANY
IGNITING INSPIRED LEADERSHIP

Successful leadership demands that you create a compelling presence. We will help you find your X-factor, enabling you to eloquently communicate your message in a powerful and dynamic presentation.

This program will simplify and demystify the process of designing and delivering an effective speech. You will experience 'the magic' when you bring together the four essential aspects of a successful speech: material development, structure, presence and presentation.

Kendall Colman, M.H.S.A. and C.P.C.C., is the president of Colman & Company, the highly recognized organizational leadership development firm based in Denver, Colorado. But as anyone who knows her will tell you, she brings a lot more than a title to the table. Kendall has become known for bringing a refreshing, direct and innovative approach to her work as a speaker, facilitator and premier executive coach.

Brian O'Malley CSP, has over 24 years of experience presenting leadership keynotes for prestigious organizations around the world. Brian is known for his unique style that blends stunning visuals, dramatic music and powerful stories. Brian has a reputation for inspiring audiences as he speaks from his heart with riveting passion. His presentations are based on his climbing adventures with his most popular program, Mt. Everest: The Spirit of Adventure. Brian is a Certified Speaking Professional and an executive coach.
